Church sites main items on MPC agenda

The subject of church sites occupied the members of Municipal Planning Commission when they gathered Tuesday night for their regular meeting. First on the agenda was the matter of approval of a subdivision in the MD of Sturgeon immediately north of the weigh scales. The matter was being decided for recommendation to the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission. The subdivision was being proposed for development by a Baptist church.

Mayor Ronald Harvey stated he had learned at a recent ERPC meeting that Alberta Transportation did not approve of the planned access to the church, and that reservations were also expressed regarding the fact the subdivision was being proposed for a lowland area, which could become swampy. However, the mayor pointed out that it was difficult for churches to obtain land in St. Albert because of inflated land values.

Planning Director Wayne Gordon eliminated himself from the discussion as he is a member of the congregation seeking the approval.

After it was determined that access was not on the highway, but rather off the MD road or a service road, it was moved that the matter be approved, subject to the access being termed acceptable by Alberta Transportation.

The subject of church sites arose again when the subject Please Turn to Page 8

Noel MacDonald (Robertson) an initial member in Basketball Hall of Fame

Noel MacDonald Robertson was one of the three initial people inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in Canada at a ceremony held Friday evening, July 30 at the Bessborough Hotel in Saskatoon.

Inducted posthumously were Dr. Naismith, the Canadian who invented the game of basketball and Percy Page, coach of the world champion Edmonton Grads team, who established an unbeaten record in women's basketball achievement before disbanding in 1940. Although Dr. Naismith was a Canadian the game was first played in Springfield, Massachusetts.

The Hall of Fame induction ceremony was held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association, and, as President Frank Butler of Newfoundland stated, this first induction is "just a start" on the Hall of Fame plans. Negotiations are proceeding on acquiring the old home of Dr. Naismith near Toronto for the purpose, and the Hall will be honouring men and women both past and current who have been outstanding in Canadian basketball.

Noel was presented with a beautiful engraved silver tray at the ceremony, which will be hers to keep, and the other two will be hung in the Hall of Fame.

Interviewed afterwards by CBC she said that in basketball it is the "team" that counts and that she will push for team recognition in the newly established hall of fame. "I was singled out this time, but I think of people like Maggie McBurney, also a Grad, who is the holder of the world champion record for consecutive free throws - at 61 a record not beaten in amateur play, mens or womens. Maggie played the longest on the Grads and was the highest pointgetter. Please Turn to Page 4

Mabel Gervais marks 75th birthday

About 150 friends and relatives attended a party given in honour of Mabel Gervais by her family on Sunday, August 6, to celebrate her 75th birthday. Looking very lovely and wearing a beautiful corsage of red roses, Mabel had a wonderful time visiting with old friends whom she hadn't seen for some time, and surrounded by her family of three daughters and one son, their spouses and children.

The beautiful home and grounds of her daughter Leona and son-in-law Ben Bruens, was an ideal setting for the festivities on a warm and sunny afternoon.

Mrs. Gervais' daughters are Irene, Mrs. Ed Grams of Edmonton; Toodie, Mrs. John Kozachuk and Leona of St. Albert, as is her famous Hector and his wife Helen. All but two of her 15 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren were also present, and many was the little hand into which Grandma pressed some coins and she gave them a kiss and a hug. What better day could there be to treat the children?

Her sister, Mrs. Eva Como of Edmonton was present as well and a great number of nieces and nephews. All were well taken care of at tables throughout the outdoor area laden with delicious food and gallons of tea and coffee.

For a person who enjoys people as much as Mabel it was surely a perfect kind of birthday celebration, and one which she will long remember, as will the many friends who shared it with her.

"That sure is a lot of cake!"

So said Mabel Gervais as she posed for a photo Sunday. But then there were a lot of people around to share it with her on the occasion of her 75th birthday celebrated on Sunday.

Around Town

After returning from her vacation, Gazette staffer Paulette Christian reported a happening that makes us wonder once again about the wisdom of man tampering with nature. Paulette was in the process of whipping up a sumptuous holiday breakfast for her family, when using a dozen eggs she purchased near their B.C. campsite. When the first egg turned out to be double yolked, she felt no more than the usual twinge of surprise that one feels on these occasions. But when nine of the 12 eggs turned out to have two yolks, she was somewhat astonished. The burning question is -- why? Are contemporary hens being fed fertility drugs? Are we about to be overrun by an artificially swollen chicken population? Foul thought indeed. However, in the meantime the yolk's on Paulette.

Maurice Roberge family searches out some roots

When Maurice Roberge gathered up some of his family and took a holiday trip to Rice Lake Wisconsin this summer he really had to wonder why it was that his grandfather, Pierre Roberge, had left that country about 1885 to face all the hardships and perils of settling on a homestead in western Canada.

"We saw so many beautiful farms there - so well looked after," said Mr. Roberge, and even the roads into the farm homes were all paved. The land my grandfather left is near to a good river with rich soil producing fine crops of corn, soya bean and sunflowers. They raise livestock and every farm has big silos, although the farms are not large, with 320 acres considered a lot.

However there was a good reason for the arduous trek, by rail to Winnipeg and then by wagon to the Clear Water area, which is now Beaumont district of Alberta. Land was cheaper in Canada, and there was more of it - an important consideration for a man like Pierre Roberge whose family numbered nine sons and one daughter. In the Clear Water area both husband and wife were not able to file for a quarter-section homestead in the mid 1880's, so the Roberges moved on to the St. Edmond district, about 12 miles out of St. Paul, Alberta, where they got about 12 quarters and some Roberge's are still on the land.

In all 10 families made the journey from Wisconsin. Pierre Roberge was the only one of his immediate family, but many cousins and relatives, along with Demers and Labrie families made up the party, some of whom settled in the Beaumont area, where a number of their descendants still live. There are still descendants of Pierre Roberge in the St. Edmond - St.

Paul area too. Three of his sons are living, Silom and Maurice at St. Paul and Joey now in Edmonton, but the families are now scattered across Western Canada.

They faced a lot of hard times getting settled, Maurice said, first getting small shacks up and clearing the land, with hard wagon trips to town for their meagre supplies. But they made their own good times, with parties and dances in their homes, and before long the Roberge School was built, also the centre of community activities. Homes were built on the corners of the homesteads to get neighbors as close together as possible. In summer my father had his own ball team, coaching his nine sons from small to large - and he would proudly say that they never lost very often.

Maurice and his wife Madeline, with son Vic and his daughter left on July 14 by camper for Wisconsin, stopping at Kitscoty to pick another son, Dave and his wife Lorraine and daughter Linda, in their camper.

When they arrived at Rice Lake they checked the telephone book and the first person they called, a Ray Roberge, turned out to be a third cousin of Maurice's father. He is over 90 and remembered Maurice's dad. Then they met Johnny Roberge - the only member of the family who had made the trip to Clear Water but later moved back to Rice Lake area. He took the visitors in hand and helped them find the old homestead at Dobe and various landmarks, plus introducing them to many of their relatives.

They visited the magnificent church in Dobe, built on his grandfather's land, and were given a book on the history of the church; with many photographs of early times, published in 1976 to mark the 100th anniversary of the now Our Lady of Lourde's Church. This added to their store of knowledge of the Wisconsin homestead and gave a history of the arrival of the earliest settlers - first the French and then the Irish, many of whom came to work on the railroad and then acquired homesteads. Photographs are included of many of the Roberge cousins. But before the present stone building was erected, two wooden churches on the site had been built entirely by volunteer labour, and both had burned down, so that records are not complete.

They also learned that there are so many Roberges in the district, and so many called Johnny, that some members of the family changed the spelling to Robarge, to avoid confusion.

Except for the church there wasn't much left of the little village of Dobe: a small Please Turn to Page 4

Local man marks anniversary

From the gypsy life of a rural lineman to the responsibilities of management, Joe Bruchal has enjoyed it all. This year Calgary Power's area supervisor at St. Albert marks his 25th Anniversary with the Alberta based utility.

A quarter-century veteran of the company's construction operations Mr. Bruchal joined Calgary Power in 1953 as a rural climber for Farm Electric Services Ltd. For 10 years he travelled through central Alberta building rural power lines.

"Those were some of my most carefree years," Joe remembers, "I don't think there's a town in central Alberta I haven't lived or worked in at one time or another. Saw it all from the tops of thousands of power poles."

"Rural crews lived on the road in those days, never staying in one place longer than it took to do a job. It was interesting work and I met many fine people along the way. Some farmers even came out to help us with the work and often invited an entire crew home for dinner afterwards. I saw a lot of Alberta then."

In 1964 Mr. Bruchal left the rural crew to join Calgary Power's construction crew at Jasper Place as a sub-foreman. Three years later he moved to Sherwood Park as the distribution foreman and bar, a blacksmith shop no longer in use, but still showing the initials of Roberge boys, who had carved their initials in metal, heated them on the anvil and pressed them into the logs.

Maurice remembered his father talking about driving four miles to a little creamery in Rice Lake as a little boy, and they looked it up. The original building was still there but had been considerably enlarged with a new red brick exterior.

After many happy visits with cousins and their children, (we could always spot the Roberges said Maurice - you can't mistake the family resemblance), the two Alberta families made their way back via Grand Falls and Winnipeg. Not only for Maurice and Madeline, but also for their son and grandchildren it had proved a fascinating trip, with glimpses of their family history and meeting for the first time so many first, second and third cousins.

Maurice and Madeline came to St. Albert in 1941 from the Coal Branch, in order to get better education facilities for their children. Maurice worked for a while for the Sisters and then at Star Key Mines where he was in charge of a crew for a time. Then he went trucking for Neil Ross before starting to work for the Catholic School Board 11 years ago. He has just turned 65 but figures he will keep on working for at least another year. They raised a family of eight, now grown and "pretty well scattered around."

company's operations at Drayton Valley, Thorsby, Hinton and Evansburg.

As the utility's northern operations expanded, three separate divisions were created to handle the growing service area. In 1970 Mr. Bruchal went to St. Albert as the construction supervisor for the new division.

Further changes in the company's organization brought a new position into the company's operations and in 1976 Mr. Bruchal was named area supervisor for construction and operations at the St. Albert area work centre. His main responsibilities are the construction and distribution operations for St. Albert and Morinville.

"I've enjoyed each of my positions and moving around has helped me to maintain a real interest in my work. A person can get stale if they stay in the same area over a long period of time and I've been lucky enough to experience many different kinds of work during my career.

"The rapid growth and changes taking place in this area have been really exciting and certainly presented a variety of challenges for me as a supervisor. It's hard to believe I've been at it for 25 years now.

Mr. Bruchal and his wife Dolores live in Sherwood Park with their three children: James, 13; Laura, 11 and Brenda 8. Formerly involved with minor hockey and soccer in the community Mr. Bruchal likes to garden, travel and occasionally plays cards.

This fall he and his wife will participate in Calgary Power's annual 25 Year Club dinner-dance where he will be inducted into the company's Quarter-Century Club and receive an inscribed gold watch to mark the occasion.

Noel, who played with the team for seven years was second highest pointgetter and had the highest shooting average.

Noel also worked on the executive of the CABA, starting with Claire Hollingsworth in 1948. Her duties were to arrange the Western playoffs for girls, while the Eastern office looked after playoffs in eastern Canada.

She was surprised, after being away from the CABA for some years, to find that it is now a large professional organization with a "really sharp" executive director, George Warren and a Sports

Contributions Director, Allan Ray. Discussions on a constitution were taking place at the Saskatoon meetings, along with fund raising plans. All provinces were represented, most with two people, and most of whom were volunteers.

Noel had some ideas on men who would qualify for the hall of fame such as Arnold Henderson, who assisted Mr. Page in coaching and was voted the Canadian outstanding male basketball player in the 1930s. And she mentioned the Winnipeg Toilers and Victoria Dominions as mens team prospects.

Noel, who now lives in Anchorage, Alaska, where her husband, Harry Robertson is in the oil business, stopped over to see her sister Jean Ryley in St. Albert on her way back from Saskatoon, and was happy to be able to take in the Games Opening with Jean. She left by plane for home on Monday morning, with her enthusiasm for the CABA rekindled - she may be back doing some work for them before long.

Police Report

The St. Albert RCMP are investigating a complaint of rape after a 19 year old Edmonton girl was severely beaten and raped near St. Albert. The incident took place in the early morning hours of July 30, 1978.

Buddy Darrell Bates, age 19 years of Edmonton, was charged with dangerous driving on August 6, 1978 at approximately 9 p.m. The offence occurred when Bates was noted to be driving his motorcycle south on St. Albert Trail, in a manner that was dangerous to the public.

Sean Frank MacDonald of 20 Grandin Village St. Albert and David John Waschuk of 3 Glenwood Crescent St. Albert, were both charged with dangerous driving in the early morning hours of August 8, 1978. The offence took place on McKenney Avenue and Morgan Crescent.

Seniors thrilled by opening ceremonies at the Games

Thirty-nine senior citizens from St. Albert, accompanied by Mayor Ron Harvey and his wife Joan, went by bus to the opening ceremonies for the Commonwealth Games which they enjoyed tremendously.

Ethel Cuts arranged for the tickets while Lily Szuba looked after the bus which took them right to the wheelchair area in the end zone between the two levels. Mayor Harvey assisted in getting Alice Ross and Lottie Barnett settled in their wheelchairs and all had a fine view.

In all there were 40 bus loads of seniors, 300 in wheelchairs taken to the area. Among others, one St. Albert lady was somewhat overcome by the heat around four o'clock but, the St. John Ambulance people assisted and Lily stayed with her until she recovered.

The seniors met at their recreation centre to go in, and driver Betty Smith kindly dropped off those without cars to their homes afterwards.

The seniors also had two interesting outings in July. They visited the University campus on July 5 where they saw the tropical gardens and displays of Indian and Inuit artifacts. They also toured the Rutherford residence, home of the first Premier of Alberta, where the original furnishings are still in place and even the clothing worn is shown on mannequins. Their bus also took them to Strathcona Place where they spent about an hour that day. There are 1,200 members at that centre and the St. Albert group were shown the painting, crafts of all kinds and woodworking done by seniors in the centre. They were also interested in the banking service provided by the Treasury Branch which visits the centre on banking day to accommodate members and also the seniors from the high rise nearby. The outing finished with a picnic in Emily Murphy park.

On July 19 they visited the "most beautiful" centre in Fort Saskatchewan and were much impressed with the Fort museum, housed in the old original court house. After the tour they were served coffee in the lovely coffee house in the museum. Then it was off to Riverview park where they rested and played games, such as lawn darts, which they had brought with them. They had their lunch with them as well to enjoy in the park, and although they weren't able to see the mint that day, the seniors thoroughly enjoyed the outing, as they do all such trips.

Ratepayers attack budget

Residents of Drayton Valley had quite a bit to say about the town's budget recently, and recreation and culture allotments were the main focus for complaint.

At a public meeting called to discuss the budget, one ratepayer said the total recreation budget was "right out of line" and that the council was "blowing" the residents tax dollars.

The town's budget for recreation and cultural expenditures is $313,887, up from $251,796 actually spent from last year.

Residents expressed particular concern regarding the need for a recreation director, as well as questioning the hiring of consultants to design small parks. One resident said the latter expenditure was "money down the drain."

Mayor Nevis LaBranche had some explanatory words for the residents, pointing out that a lack of volunteers had necessitated the hiring of the recreation director.

In reference to another grievance, one resident said that "somebody has got to start cracking the whip around here." This remark was made concerning what was felt to be overspending on snow removal and street sweeping.

The meeting at which 11 ratepayers attended along with department heads and council members, was termed "useful" by Mayor LaBranche. Although the number of ratepayers present was not large, they contributed sufficient comment to cause the meeting to run 35 minutes over its scheduled two hour length.

by calling 458-2002 or by dropping by the pool anyday between 1 - 7 p.m.

Hire-a-student column

By Sharon Beale

The summer is quickly drawing to a close and I still have students available for jobs. There is a little over a week before the office closes, so get those orders to me now, before its too late!

There is quite a number of students ready and to do a variety of jobs; be they fulltime, part-time, or just an odd job for several hours. Look around the yard and the house. There must be something you've been putting off because you just haven't had the time or the energy.

Perhaps you'd like the house repainted or the trees and bushes trimmed? If you would like to hire-a-student, call Sharon at 458-7670, or drop by and see me. I'm located in the Community Services Office at 20 Muir Drive. I'm available from 8:30 - 4:30, Monday - Friday until August 18.

Any students who would be interested in making a few extra dollars by setting up a shoeshine stand, please contact Sharon at the above phone number.

ST. JOHN'S ALUMNI REUNION

* St. John's Institute, a residence for students of Ukrainian descent, is celebrating its 60th anniversary this fall. St. John's Institute, formerly the M. Hrushevski Institute was established in 1918. Hundreds of such men and women have passed "through the halls of the Institute" to become MP's, MLA's, doctors, lawyers, teachers, engineers, agronomists, successful businessmen, etc. -- leaders in every walk of life.

St. John's Institute has done more than this. It has fostered love and reverence of our heritage. It has provided an opportunity to learn something of this heritage -- Ukrainian history and literature, music, inimitable Ukrainian arts and crafts, and the ever popular Ukrainian dances.

At this time we would like to invite all former residents to the Alumni Reunion which is to be held September 1 to September 4 (Labour Day weekend). If you have lived at the Institute and have not received any information please phone St. John's Institute Office at 439-2320 or write St. John's Institute, 11024 - 82 Ave., Edmonton, T6G 0T2.

Provincial enumerators knocking on doors

Enumeration for the provincial election which is expected next year begins on Tuesday, August 15 throughout the province. Kenneth A. Wark, chief electoral officer for the Province of Alberta has announced that two enumerators will call at every home in Alberta between August 15 and September 30 to register prospective electors.

To be included on the provincial voters' list, a person must be a Canadian citizen and an Alberta resident for six months prior to October 1, 1978. The citizenship regulation is a change from the past, when British subjects, resident in Alberta, who had not yet obtained Canadian citizenship were also eligible to vote. The change means that many voters in previous elections will now be ineligible without clarification of their citizenship.

Mr. Wark urges those who are uncertain of their status to contact the Court of Canadian Citizenship in Edmonton or Calgary.

Provincial electors must have reached 18 years of age by October 1, 1978, and must reside in the electoral division and polling subdivision in which they are enumerated.

Because of August vacations, it is possible that some Albertans will be missed in the enumeration. Anyone not enumerated by September 30 is urged to contact the returning officer in his particular polling division. In this area, the returning officer is Mrs. B. Neilson, 458-6688.

church sites-MPC

of a 48-unit multiple family condominium development at 107 Larose Drive came up for discussion. Engineered Homes Ltd. is requesting that a parcel adjoining the residential and commercial sites involved be rezoned to residential. The rezoning is proposed in order that the site could be incorporated into the project.

Public Works Manager Don Corrigan stated that the condominium development would benefit from a road which looped through the present institutional site, but stated that he did not wish to have the city lose another church site. The site was originally part of the Genstar Stage 9 dedication. Engineered Homes Project Manager Charles Gallant told the MPC that at the time of the dedication, the institutional site had become somehow switched around with the adjoining commercial site, resulting in "an adulterated configuration." Mr. Gallant said that if there was no church that wished to develop the land, it would be in the best interest of all concerned if it were incorporated into the Engineered Homes Development. He said the rezoning would be beneficial as it would give better access to the development for servicing, fire protection and other needs.

After it was ascertained that title to the site in question was held by Genstar, members of the commission decided that that company should be consulted in the matter of the rezoning.

The matter was referred to the next meeting of the MPC, allowing time for city staff to meet with representatives of Genstar and Engineered Homes. An attempt will also be made to find out if any church is interested in developing the site.

New Library houses textbooks

What was once room 5-102 in the Education Building North, University of Alberta, is now the John S. Sandercock Library.

The name change was made today by the university's Board of Governors in recognition of Mr. Sandercock's gift to the university of a large collection of Alberta school textbooks.

Mr. Sandercock, a native of Manitoba, taught school in rural areas of southern Alberta for many years and was later principal of an elementary school in Edmonton.

During his career he worked closely with a number of educational publishing firms and that connection is reflected in the collection of texts.

Mr. Sandercock is retired and lives in Edmonton.

The John S. Sandercock Library will also serve as a home for various other education research collections and will continue to be used as a seminar room.

Families of Ukrainian pioneers being sought

The Ukrainian Canadian Archives and Museum of Alberta in co-operation with the Secretary of State launched a summer project, with four students on staff.

The project encompasses many facets. It includes the cataloguing and filing of old photographs and artifacts in the Archives, the preparation of a display promoting the Ukrainian Canadian Archives and Museum of Alberta, compiling a bibliography of past-war Ukrainian Canadian political thought and a director of all Ukrainian cultural, religious, political and educational institutions, collecting artifacts for the Archives and Museum and conducting tours through the Museum.

Canadian studies grant approved

At a meeting recently, the University of Alberta's Board of Governors approved a grant of $5,000 to fund the support of the F.T. Jenner Memorial Prize in Canadian Studies.

The prize is awarded annually to one or more undergraduate students specializing in Canadian studies. The award is tenable at any Canadian university.

Fred Jenner served as chairman of the Board of Governors from 1972 to 1975. He also was a member of the University of Alberta Senate from 1966 to 1971. Mr. Jenner was noted for long and distinguished careers in both the automobile industry in Alberta and the Canadian military. He died in December, 1976 at the age of 67.

The early part of summer was spent preparing a poster and pamphlet promoting the Archives and Museum and preparing a display of photographs depicting the lifestyle of the Ukrainian pioneer. Photographs of men, women and children working, Ukrainian cultural and political institutions, schools, families, weddings, early Ukrainian churches and pioneer homes were arranged around painted Ukrainian graphics to produce a montage. The cities of Vegreville, Bonnyville and Red Deer have been visited with the display. Peace River, Grande Prairie and St. Paul are yet on schedule and will be visited in the early part of August, during the days of the local exhibitions there.

While on excursion to the smaller cities, an effort is made to contact the immediate families of the pioneers in order to secure any artifacts or valuables from the pioneer era of Ukrainian Canadian history. If in fact any pioneers are contacted, then interviews with them are held and recorded on tape. The tapes are filed in the Archives as historical materials.

The Ukrainian Canadian Archives and Museum of Alberta is located at 9543-110 Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta. Tours are conducted between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday to Friday and between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

U of A film course set to roll

Plays definitely have their place, but for Dr. Bill Beard of the University of Alberta, the film's the thing.

His commitment to cinema includes seeing just about every commercial release (not to mention the art house offerings), broadcasting reviews on CKUA Radio, and scrutinizing a vast amount of film literature. Now, that commitment is about to encompass the teaching of a new university course, Introduction to the Study of Film.

It's a full-year credit course offered jointly by the departments of comparative literature, art and design, drama, English, political science, romance languages and philosophy.

Dr. Beard anticipates an enrolment of 50 to 100 students for the course which begins in mid-September.

It is designed to promote awareness of the nature and uses of film language, and to provide an overview of film history from its beginnings to the present.

An analytical projector with stop action capability has been purchased by the university and 25 feature length films, most of which are acknowledged classics, have been selected and scheduled by Dr. Beard. The list includes Nanook of the North, The General, The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari, Sunset, October, Winotchka, The Rules of the Game, Citizen Kane, The Searchers, Ugetsu, Psycho, Weekend, L'Avventura, and Rejeanne Padovani.

Each film screened will be studied from three perspectives: as a text in film language, as a work of art in its own right, and as a product of its particular time and place in film history.

The course will contain lectures on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and labs (film showings) on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Students will be required to attend approximately three hours of lectures per week, plus a minimum of one and a half to two hours of film showings per week.

A mid-term exam, an essay of approximately 2,000 words, a final exam, and a number of shorter seminar assignments will be undertaken by students.

Dr. Beard, who has been affiliated with the university's department of English for the past four years, will function as both projectionist and lecturer, tasks which to him constitute a labor of love.

A native of Lethbridge, he graduated from the University of Alberta in 1967 with a Bachelor of Arts degree. He later earned a Master of Arts degree at the University of California, Berkeley, and a Doctor of Philosophy degree at the University of London.

Life is filled with many great things that happen to Dave and Dogger, until tragedy strikes. Dogger is lost. A major search is called but no Dogger is found. Life just isn't the same without Dogger. Dave is at a loss, even at the fair where there were all kinds of great things happening, three legged races, wheelbarrow races, a fancy dress parade and more. Dave started to wander off by himself trying to find something that would cheer him - When, as he was walking and looking at all the different booths at the fair, there at the very back of one of the booths, behind a lot of other toys, was Dogger! Play is stylish send-up of McMurray mythology

By Vicki Knight

Fort McMurray -- the name has a brusque, implacable ring to it, well suited to the grinding life in the camps. The area's more recent inhabitants are usually ambivalent about it -- their coffers are filled with cash, but their spirits are drained of joy. Camp life means isolation from family, friends and urban luxuries. The gambling is interminable, with the stakes high, and booze is lapped up in awesome quantities. Some become spiritually, morally and physical depleted. Few become rich.

All this is the very stuff of drama, satire and black comedy, as was discovered by the people of Theatre Network. Their production of "Hard Hats and Stolen Hearts" was commissioned for Festival '78 of the Commonwealth Games and is playing at Theatre 3 until August 12.

Being one of thousands who was made a grass widow by the McMurray boom, I was curious about the play. Like other families, we danced the McMurray-to-Edmonton shuffle for several years, and found it an exercise in disorientation. Could the play capture the weird suspended atmosphere that pervaded the camps and the households of those who wait at home?

Well, for the most part, they were successful. The two veterans of the Mildred Lake site who accompanied me chortled knowingly throughout, delighted at seeing the deprivations of which they had complained verified on stage for their skeptical wives. The wives were equally smug at the theatrical reflections of their own experiences.

The play examines six characters lured by various baits to the McMurray motherlode. A young couple is trying to bank the down payment on a house; a restless barmaid is trying to find her place in the scheme of things; an old trapper, displaced by 'progress', is trying to adapt. Add to these a hustling German count and an empire building real estate man, and you have McMurray in microcosm -- a welter of conflicting manners and motives.

DWINDLING SPECIES PORTRAYED

The play was appealingly cast with a performance by Dennis Robinson that, with a bit more polish, could be preserved on film as an authentic record of a dwindling Canadian species. As the old trapper Elmer, Mr. Robinson's accents, diction and mannerisms can be heard and seen any day at the Peter Pond tavern in McMurray, the Union in Athabasca or any other northern watering hole. Elmer is a wild old buzzard on the surface, but his raucous behavior is a cover for the peaceful nature of the woodsman he used to be. Layne Coleman had a dual role as the Count and the real estate man and handled both with dexterity, although perhaps the Count could be played with a bit less bravura. I particularly appreciated the compassionate interpretation of the businessman. This was not wholly the stereotyped, soulless profiteer. He was greedy, but human. After all, not every profiteer at McMurray wears a suit -- most wear hard hats! This affection for the characters was consistent throughout, and elevated the play from mere satire. The motives of the characters were laid bare, but gently and with understanding.

The set for the production, by Victor Becker, with plastic fabrication by Gie Roberts was starkly appropriate and ingeniously adaptable. The maze of pipes loomed omnipresent over the players, as does the real thing at the job site.

"There's no you and me at McMurray," says one character resignedly as she looks at the metallic monster overhead. "There's only it."

For most of our life as a cultural entity, Canadians have watched the dramas and histories of other people unfold on our stages. At last our own stories have been deemed worthy of the telling. Without being ponderous, Hard Hats and Stolen Hearts tells the tale of the Tarsands Toilers in a manner both witty and sensitive. Such works add to our understanding of ourselves and our times. Hopefully, cultural efforts in this vein will do us a great favour: they will define Canadians for themselves once and for all and put an end to the nebulous matters about the "national identity crisis."

Marie Anne

"Demystifying" our past

By Vicki Knight

The old Princess Theatre was filled to capacity last Thursday night for the world premiere of Fil Fraser's latest production, "Marie Anne." The historic theatre was an appropriate setting for a film which examines the early days of the Canadian West. The film appeared as part of the Commonwealth Games International Film Festival.

Marie-Anne is a pleasing film. Although this accolade might appear lukewarm, it is not intended to belittle. From the beginning, it was obvious the film was crafted with affection for its characters and with a deep love for the country of which it tells. Visually, it is an elegant film, beautifully photographed in the rich, muted hues of the wilds, punctuated by vivid strokes of colour in the turning leaves and flamboyant sashes of the voyageur. The movie was filmed entirely at Fort Edmonton. It is a credit to the film's producers, and the planners of the Fort and the river valley park system that such a period film could be made in the heart of a metropolitan city with no visible intrusion by the present.

The story is a simple one and true, as well. The bride of a voyageur determines to make the trip west from Quebec to Fort Edmonton with her husband. In doing so, she is the first white woman to proceed west of Winnipeg. She encounters varying forms of opposition to this move, but overcomes them with ingenuity and aplomb. To some, this story might seem an oversimplification of early travails, lacking in depth. It is true that those looking for the "heavy" pseudo profundities of some 'cinema verite' might find this film slight. However, a feature length film can only tackle so much effectively. Surely, the very idea of a puny handful of people attempting to subdue a raw land as vast as Canada is sufficiently profound. Marie-Anne limits its vision to the trials and tribulations of one woman at the Fort. Her journey from east to west would in itself be another tale, so this segment of the heroine's adventures is handled with despatch. This has led to some criticism that the movie lacks the spirit of the Grand Adventure. However, grand adventures are comprised of small successes and it is the latter that the film has chosen to examine. One woman's triumphs over a series of obstacles by means of grit, good sense and some chicanery probably says much about the larger victories of her contemporaries. Perhaps the reason Canadians have been traditionally apathetic about their history lies in the fact the subject matter is intimidating in its immensity. Marie-Anne illustrates that the limited focus is a more effective way of touching the textures of our past.

The film itself generates a warmth of spirit, due in great part to the appeal of the individual characters. Andree Pelletier's Marie-Anne was charming, her attitude suitably demure for a sheltered French miss, but brightened by sparks of impudence and a glint of inner steel. Although her words were few, Tantou Martin was a powerful presence in the film, as the jealous and vengeful native Princess. Her ominous vibrations were felt even when she was off the screen.

MARIE-ANNE
(Andree Pelletier)

The part of the voyageur was a secondary one, as the story is primarily Marie-Anne's. As Jean Baptiste Lagimodiere, John Juliani gave us a simple, exuberant adventurer, who works and plays with equal zest. His uncomplicated personality provides an excellent foil for his more enigmatic wife.

Marie-Anne is a rarity in modern films. While it artfully ensnares the attention, it does not do so with the help of violence or sex. The ending is upbeat, with no heavy-handed moralizing. While it is perhaps not a film that will blaze across the skies of cinematic history, it provides a beacon of decency and good taste, while making no sacrifice of the cinematic art.

Roots of the blues

with Simon
The British Invasion in the form of the Beatles, the Stones, the Searchers and so on, seemingly put an end to r&b, but in actuality, it re-introduced American music to the American kids in a different form.

The Beatles were well rooted in Chuck Berry, Little Richard, Billy Haley and other original masters of the youth culture. The Stones were firmly into the electric Chicago blues, and more than that, the original and strictly indigenous Mississippi delta blues. With the drug culture and the Vietnam War going on, the American kids were disillusioned and they needed something new and different, as they did a decade before.

It should also be noted that the blues music really lacked a Superstar in the likes of Elvis Presley. This superstar must combine the elements of showmanship, stage presence, musicianship and enough charisma to break through the race barrier ... Enter and Exit James Marshall Hendrix (Jimi Hendrix), the first true black superstar, and the ultimate blues guitarist.

In South America and the Caribbean, it was more of a melting pot of musical ideas. Most of the slaves who were brought to Brazil and Cuba greatly and rhythmically influenced the Spanish music that was already prevalent. Flamenco itself is used for dancing, and with the addition of congos and bongoes, and percussive piano playing coupled to the most economical guitar work, you have sounds like Samba, Bossa Nova (Brazil), Mambo, Cha-cha, Pachanga (Cuba) and Meringue (Venezuela).

While this form of music is almost totally reserved to the romantic language groups of the continent, i.e. French, Spanish and Portuguese, the English speaking parts of the West Indies, who are more closely related to the American blacks by language, were developing what was originally called Blue Beat, then Ska, and now Reggae.

All along the way the blues met East Indian music, first in the original Indo-Jazz fusions, then through the work of the Beatles and psychedelia, and now when the hump and bump and totally mindless music played in discos is destroying the integrity of blues and rock: through the exciting and original works of fusion musicians like John MacLaughlin, Santana, George Duke, Billy Cobham, and groups like Weather Report, Return to Forever and Jan Hammer.

It is also interesting to note that most groups playing progressive rock who refuse to acknowledge the blues and its derivatives, end up sounding alike, and totally unprolific. Led Zeppelin has its roots in the blues; so do Jeff Beck, Eric Clapton, Chicago, Blood Sweat and Tears, the Stones and many trendsetters in the Rock Machine.

Another noteworthy trend is the use of "poly-rhythm" in most jazz and rock bands of today. Poly-rhythm is the use and combination of several instruments and several rhythm patterns for use at the same time.

For example, somebody is playing 4-4 beat, somebody is playing 5-4, somebody is playing 5-8 and maybe 6-8 or 7-4 or 11-8 and vice versa. Sounds crazy?

Sure, but it is possible, and the example is simple. i.e. 2 multiplied by 6 equals 12, so is 6 by 2, and 3 by 4, and 4 by 3, and 1 by 12 and 12 by 1. The difficulty is getting a drummer to play 6-8 on the bass drum, 5-4 on the snare, 2-4 on the toms and ride 7-8 or 8-11 on his cymbals.

In Africa, people play this way everyday without the need of a computer to count.

To readers who would like to know more about the blues, its roots and derivatives, listen to the under-mentioned musicians:

Blues-Acoustic: Skip James, Leadbelly, Lonnie Johnson, Bill Broonzy, John Estes, Rev. Gary Davies and Taj Mahal.

Electric blues: B.B. King, Buddy Guy, Jesse Fuller, John Lee Hooker, Albert King, John Mayall, Eric Clapton.

Jazz: Charlie Christian, Freddie Green, Kenny Burrell, Wes Montgomery, George Benson, Barney Kessel, Django Reinhardt.

Voice: Ma Rainey, Bessie Smith, Ella Fitzgerald, Janis Joplin, Diana Ross.

Piano: Walter Roland, Jim Yaney, Count Basie, Duke Ellington.

Rock: Bo Diddley, Chuck

Berry, Little Richard, Fats Domino, Jimi Hendrix.

Misc.: Louis Armstrong, Quincy Jones, King Curtis,

Gatemouth Brown, Joe Turner, T-Bone Walker and the radio program called "King Biscuit Time."

South African film studies racist policy

Just coming off a very successful six-week run in Vancouver, of Sizwe Bansi is Dead, Sepia Players will be presenting this production in Edmonton from August 23 to September 3, at Theatre 3.

Theatre audiences will recall Sepia Players Production of Athol Fugard's The Blood Knot, directed by Ernie King, which played in Edmonton last year.

Sizwe Bansi is Dead is another play by South African, Athol Fugard. In this work, the writer deals with the inhuman savagery of South Africa's "pass laws". Set in Port Elizabeth, the play revolves around the hopelessness and degradation of a Black man's life under existing apartheid rules. It is the story of one man's desperate situation and the methods he must employ to remedy this situation, in order to give himself and his family a renewed chance at survival.

Critics have described the play as "a brilliant expose of South Africa's racist policies." Fugard's plays have been described as "ripping the mask off apartheid not with an axe but with a scalpel."

Directed by Ernie King - Sizwe Bansi is Dead stars Blue Mankuma (so brilliant in The Blood Knot) and Ernie King.

August 23 - September 3 (except Monday and Tuesday). Time 8:30 p.m. Theatre 3, 10426 - 95 Street, Edmonton. Admission $5.00, students $4.00. For further information and reservations call 426-6870. Advance tickets on sale at: Theatre 3.

Today nobody gets a bargain by waiting around. Home values are on the rise. Prices are substantial, but the home that is medium-priced today will cost more next year.

That's why it's smart to get into the market right away. The sooner you begin paying into your investment, the better, you can begin to watch it grow as values climb.

Graphica opening second season

Graphica will launch its second season Sunday, August 20 with a double billing intended as a tribute to all those who have helped the gallery become one of Edmonton's favorite.

Faithful to its original commitment to the Arts, the gallery will present an Anniversary Concert featuring two distinguished Canadian pianists: Ernesto Lejano, professor at the University of Alberta and Dale Reubart, from the University of British Columbia. The program of music for this piano duet will include L. van Beethoven's Variations on a Theme by Count von Waldstein, Shubert's Grand Rondeau in A major, J. Brahms' Hungarian Dances as well as Debussy's Six epigraphes antiques and Ravel's Ma Mere L'Ove (Mother Goose). Francine Gravel will also read to Ravel's Mother Goose Rhythms. This concert will be offered Sunday, August 20 at 2 p.m. and repeated Tuesday evening August 22 at 8 p.m. As usual, admission is free on both occasions.

Also opening on Sunday, August 20 at 4 p.m. (immediately following the concert) an exhibition entitled Visual Symphony featuring recent engravings by Francine Gravel. This show will be a delight to those who are familiar with Francine's work and should be an overwhelming experience to all newcomers.

The show will comprise more than 30 prints executed since January 1978, most of them dealing with a musical theme. Such an amount of work is exceptional by all standards and also exceptional in quality, bringing forth colour etching techniques unique to this young artist.

The exhibition will also feature a print commissioned by Graphica and entitled Les Fabulistes which is a foremost example of Francine's search of a life filled with joyful cosmic energy and typical of her present technical researches in color etching. This exhibition will run till September 9.

The gallery will present in the fall of 1978 Gouaches by Elyane Roy (Sept. 14-30), and in conjunction with the Photography Centre and exhibition entitled Pre-World War 1 Prints from South Central Alberta (Oct. 5-21) followed by Editions Canada Graphics (Oct. 26 - Nov. 11) and to the end of November Etchings by Urmilla Garg of St. Albert and professor at the University of Alberta's Extension department.

Appeal to you therefore, brethren, and beg of you in view of (all) the mercies of God, to make a decisive dedication of your bodies - presenting all your members and faculties - as a living sacrifice, holy (devoted, consecrated) and well pleasing to God, which is your reasonable (rational, intelligent) service and spiritual worship.

Building underway for local racquet club

The St. Albert Racquet Club Ltd. broke ground Friday, August 4 with an official sod turning ceremony at the well advertised Riel Drive location. His Worship Mayor Ron Harvey was in attendance together with the architect Mr. Bill Ross who designed this three-quarter million athletic sports club. Also present were joint developers of the complex Mr. Peter Firth, president of Frinfir Holdings Ltd., a previous resident of St. Albert and Mr. Ian Macdougall, president of Cavalier Realty Ltd., currently residing in the Grandin area of St. Albert and Mr. Eric Schmitz. After the brief ceremony, a luncheon was held at the St. Albert Inn where Mr. Moe Madsen, regional general manager of A. V. Carlson Construction, and Mr. Gordon Waples, project manager for Carlson, extended their welcome. Mr. Ernie Jamison MLA was co guest of honour with the mayor. Mr. Geoff Rohmkopf owner of St. Albert Auto Haus on Riel Drive attended the event to welcome his new neighbours. The initial administration of St. Albert Racquet Club will be the responsibility of Ian Macdougall together with Peter Firth. Staff recruitment is expected to reach about 12 to 15 full and part time positions which will be available for St. Albert residents.

The owners remarked that due to unavoidable delays in construction start of their private club structure the premises should be open by late fall this year. It was noted that the reason for late start was primarily caused by technicalities regarding land, subdivision and the likes. However, now that the frustrations are removed building will be able to commence immediately. A. V. Carlson is a highly reputable builder with an accomplished background in such structures as the Edmonton Citadel Theatre, Edmonton's Light Rail Transit station at Churchill Square and a multitude of other large and small projects throughout Western Canada. Mr. Firth and Mr. Macdougall commented that Carlson were in fact high bidders over three other noted construction firms but it was their considered opinion that quality and service comes before price. The St. Albert Racquet Club will be the first major project undertaken by Carlson in the City of St. Albert.

This private club is open to a maximum of 800 members for which membership pledges have already been received in excess of 400. The general expectations by the owners is that a full club membership roster will be filled by late September after which a waiting list formula for membership must be devised.

The complex will provide equipped exercise room facilities for keep fit work outs together with a unique electrically-timed court system for racquetball and squash players, presumably the first such innovative system in North America.

A club member may book playing time by phone to play racquetball or squash as often as he or she chooses from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. Please Turn to Page 17

Playoffs start tonight in Sturgeon Men's Fastball

The regular season schedule of the 14-team Sturgeon Valley Men's Fastball League has now been completed, with the Stony Plain Playboys again ending the schedule in first place, four points ahead of both Spruce Grove KC's and Calahoo Chiefs.

The fourth and final spot in the "A" division went to the Stony Plain Kings who were one point behind the Chiefs and KC's.

The opening game in the best of three playoffs will start tonight in Stony Plain with the Playboys meeting Calahoo while the Kings will travel to Spruce Grove for their opening game.

The second game will be played Monday in Calahoo and Stony Plain respectively and should a third be necessary it will go Wednesday.

In the "B" division the L.B.H. Builders ended in a tie with Devon Stingers for first place with L.B.H. being declared top spot as a result of winning both games they played with Devon this season. Both teams had records of 17 wins and 9 losses for 34 points and only missed the "A" playoffs by one point. Onoway Royals and St. Albert A's also ended the season with 26 points each, but Onoway took third place as they had one less loss than the A's.

The "B" playoffs will also Please Turn to Page 16

Sod turning

Mayor Ron Harvey had the honours turning the first sod and marking the commencement of construction of the new St. Albert Racquet Club on Riel Drive. Also present to mark the event were: Back row from left - Gord Waples, project manager for A.V. Monday through Sunday inclusive - the exercise room is open to all members continuously without reservation. Additional attractions include a free daytime infants care centre plus a well stocked sporting goods pro-shop. Spectator viewing lounges and beverage areas have all been taken into account together with expensive locker room facilities for both men and women, incorporating shower stalls, big sauna rooms and adequate parking facilities.

Edmonton residents are eyeing this facility as compared to any other club from a standpoint of quality, experienced management and easy access not to mention club membership fees. While St. Albert Racquet Club ranks approximately midway between the most expensive private club facilities in the Greater Edmonton region as compared to the non-private club amenities it is deemed to be the most modern complex affording the best facilities possible to professional players and beginners alike. Announcements will be made shortly with regard to club pro's who will be engaged to assist or teach the games of racquetball, squash or even handball. However racquetball, which is the most popular game demands very little coaching, and first time players will learn the game readily, enjoy themselves and keeping trim all in one.

The game of Squash demands a little more expertise and, while very popular in European countries, has not caught on too quickly in the North American continent whereas racquetball enthusiasm has jumped leaps and bounds in the past few years and now appears to have captured a wide cross section of eager participants in this country. In the U.S.A. its becoming the number one participation event as national T.V. coverage and commercials indicate. It is reputed that San Diego, California was the birthplace of racquetball as we know it today and probably so since there are more racquet courts in California, manufacturers of sporting goods related to the sport and subsidiary companies than all of the U.S.A. put together. Racquetball is an easy-to-learn, inexpensive and healthy form of activity enjoyed by all age groups who play the game. Above all its ideal for Albertans, who have limited climatic conditions for sporting activities, to be able to take part in a year-round sport offering indoor facilities in conjunction with club activities. Whether it be single or family club membership there is an abundance of club participation to involve all age groups at comparable reasonable prices, Mr. Macdougall said.

Oilers release 1978 - 1979 schedule

The 1978/79 World Hockey Association schedule for the coming season of the Edmonton Oilers was recently announced with the Oilers opening at home against the Cincinnati Stingers October 13 and ending April 15 at Winnipeg against the Jets.

Oilers will play a 78-game schedule with 39 at home and away.

Cincinnati Stingers, Birmingham Bulls and Winnipeg Jets will play in Edmonton seven times each, while New England Whalers, Quebec Nordiques and Indianapolis Racers will visit the Coliseum six times apiece.

In addition to the regular schedule the Oilers have also announced games with the Soviet All-Stars, Sweden, Soviet Dynamos, Czechoslovakia and Finland.

Sailfish swimmers bring home honours at region meets

Just to quickly wrap up the Westlock-Fort Saskatchewan swim meets on July 29 and 30: Lloydminster also flexed its muscles at the Fort meet on that weekend. Although this club is not in our region, they will be very visible at the wind-up provincials on August 25, 26 and 27. And to have a further look at the 13 and 14 year old girls who were at Westlock, Susan Otto and Gerta Grieve pulled in the first and third spots in the 100 metre backstroke, again in the 100 m. freestyle and did it all over again in the 100 m. individual medley relay.

At the Fort, Cathy Colville joined her team-mates to take a neat third in the 100 yard freestyle and along with Gerta and Susan really helped pull in the points for the St. Albert squad. How can this group go wrong when they are combined with their team-mates who were in Edson and Hinton on the same weekend? They don't. Neither do the boys in this category. Flawless all the way.

Again it was clean-up time at Stony Plain last Saturday and this week let's look at the 15 and 16 year olds as well as the "open" category. Leading off in alphabetical order, the girls have Eileen Ainsley, Carmelle Kirsch, Cindy Stephens, Cassi Tate and Carolyn Wilhelm. Quite often these girls are grouped as "senior" entries at some of the meets and have gone into the open events. No problem, these events against older girls are handled just beautifully.

At Stony Plain, this was just the case for Carolyn Wilhelm and Cassi Tate in the 50 m. butterfly where they took first and second spots easily. Carolyn did it again in the 100 m. backstroke and it was Diane Pass and Carolyn in first and second in the 100 m. breaststroke.

Diane is part of the open, or girls 17 and over group along with Lynda Benko and Linda Legault who make up the three member team. In the girls 100 m. freestyle, it was Diane and Cindy Stephens in first and second along with Carolyn and Carmelle in first and third spots in the 200 m. individual medley. They also cleaned up first and second spots in the 200 m. medley relay as well as in the free relay.

Kent Madsen, Chris Odinga and Gary Rachor are the nucleus of the 15 and 16 year old boys and when its possible, Jack Bakker, Brian Boddez, Richard Coyle and Norm Odinga add some impressive swimming in this group. As with the girls, these boys are sometimes categorized in with the open age group for a senior boys entry. Kent showed a close third in the individual awards in Stony Plain, but took top honours for senior boys at the previous meet in Edson. At Stony Plain, Kent edged out Todd Van Vliet for first in the 50 m. butterfly, and along with Gary Rachor took first and second for the 100 m. backstroke. Gary also brought home a comfortable second place in the 100 m. breaststroke. Kent took third in the 100 m. freestyle and again in the 200 m. individual medley. The official list for boys open shows Bruce Hudinott, Ron Lastwika, Peter Odinga and Rod Wiltshire.

Not to forget the individual awards, little Gretel Rachor took the girls eight and under, while newcomer Tiffany Watson of St. Albert just nudged out her team-mate, Jackie-Jo Tessier for the nine and 10 year old girls award. Susan Otto took top spot for the 13 and 14 year old girls along with Tom Munro for the boys.

Carolyn Wilhelm was top girl in the senior girls events, closely followed by Diane Pass.

It was another great day for the Sailfish for individual and total points. The final standings were St. Albert 748½, Spruce Grove 534½, Stony Plain 351, Drayton Valley 184½ and Barrhead with 90½.

The line-up of this year's swimmers is now recorded and you have met them all. Some names you will hear more than others, but it has to be a team effort - it can't be anything else for the continuous wins this team has brought home. If it seems that we might be breaking an arm to pat these kids on the back, well maybe we have. But they are worth it as they are good - really good.

A special mention has to go to the little swimmer who has maybe been lapped in his or her event and just barely seems to be able to finish, but by golly, that race is finished. This is sheer determination when it would be so easy to get out of the pool instead of coming home on the last length.

Next week, it's off to Bonnie Doon pool for the Regional Swim offs in preparation for the Provincial Swim Meet. This year's host - St. Albert.

St. Albert training race

Australian cyclist finishes first

The 'Spirit of '78' was very much in evidence around St. Albert last Sunday when 50 racing cyclists representing 13 Commonwealth countries arrived to treat city residents to their first taste of international bike racing.

On a hot sunny afternoon a good crowd waiting on Winston Churchill Avenue watched as two Australians, a New Zealander and an Ulsterman fought out a wheel to wheel finish. Australian Paul Anderson emerged the winner after 120 miles of colourful, action packed racing around city streets. He received an inches verdict over team-mate Sal Sansonetti.

The race got underway promptly at 1 p.m. when Mayor Ron Harvey signalled the start with the Commonwealth flag in front of the Perron Street Arena. Following a pace car the colourful cavalcade made its way to the race circuit - a triangle formed by Grandin Road, Leveseur Road and Sir Winston Churchill Boulevard.

Action began early during the second lap of the 22 lap race when a group of 15 riders drew away from the main pack. The resulting chase brought about another split in the pursuing group leaving three distinct packs by the end of lap three. Lap three was the fastest lap of the race. It was completed in 7 1/2 minutes with the leaders 23 seconds clear.

The leading group included riders from all the major teams - Canada, Australia, New Zealand and Northern Ireland. They set a blistering pace that saw them build a lead of four minutes 22 seconds by the end of lap 13.

The fast pace and heat began to take a toll on the smaller teams, not used to this class of competition. Some riders from Gibraltar, Hong Kong, Sri Lanka and Jersey began dropping out although others, lapped by the leaders, refused to give up and stayed on to finish.

A decisive move came on lap 14 when Anderson (Australia), Sansonetti (Australia), Stockwell (New Zealand), and Kerr (North Ireland) broke clear from the leading group. Hanaray (New Zealand) followed alone 30 seconds back. By lap 20 the main pack had abandoned stragglers from the original leading group but got no closer than 1 1/2 minutes to the front runners, who were now beginning to slow. They played cat and mouse with each other while conserving energy for the final drive to the line. With 200 meters to go it was still anybody's race as the four fought shoulder to shoulder in a blistering 50 m.p.h. sprint. Anderson got the verdict over team-mate Sansonetti with Stockwell edging out Kerr for third place. Hanaray came home alone 30 seconds later to take fifth spot with Canadians Dornellas and Cramero leading in the bunch for sixth and seventh.

An appreciative crowd, which had gathered around the finish line opposite Grandin Shoppers Park, looked on as Mayor Harvey congratulated Anderson and presented him with a laurel wreath and a souvenir plaque from the City of St. Albert.

A reception was held in the arena for the cyclists, team managers and officials where they were able to meet and chat with local dignitaries.

The riders all received city lapel pins and enjoyed an excellent cold buffet prepared by Cleo Laine, the concession manageress.

Race organizer Dave Kenny of St. Albert said the City did an excellent job in helping make the event the success it was as did Standard General Construction who provided sponsorship. All race marshalls, the Pathfinders C.B. Club, Mr. Guy Chaisson of St. John's Ambulance and the girl guides manning the first aid posts all provided much appreciated help as did the person who cooled the riders with a garden hose and helped the English team feel more at home.

Here's how they finished: 1. P. Anderson, Australia 2 hrs. 58'30"; 2. S. Sansonetti, Australia, same time; 3. B. Stockwell, New Zealand, same time; 4. B. Kerr, North Ireland, s.t.; 5. V. Hanaray, New Zealand at 3 hrs.; 6. E. Dornellas, Canada, 3 hrs. 1'06"; 7. M. Cramero, Canada, s.t.; 8. G. Bell, New Zealand, s.t.; 9. R. Sansonetti, Australia, s.t.; 10. S. Joughin, Isle of Mann, s.t.; 11. P. Harvey, Canada, s.t.; 12. E. Walters, Jamaica, s.t.; 13. E. Heacock, Alberta, s.t.; 14. S. Lawrence, England, s.t.; 15. N. St. Aubin, Canada; 16. J. Purvis, Isle of Mann; 17. A. Cunningham, North Ireland; 18. M. Gage, Isle of Mann; 19. D. Adam, England; 20. S. Cox, New Zealand; 21. R. Downs, England; 22. A. Miller, Jersey; 23. A. Cornic, Jersey; 24. J. Smith, North Ireland; 25. R. Sumner, British Columbia; 26. Chan Fai Lui, Hong Kong; 27. Lee Shun Keung, Hong Kong; 28. M. Blagg, Gibraltar

Mayberry wins July player of the month award in closest race ever

John Mayberry stormed into the voting lead in the final days of balloting for the July Labatts Player of the Month Award and won the trophy for the first time this season in the closest race ever in the two-year history of the award.

Big John hit several dramatic homers during July including a key shot in the Jays' 4-3 win over the Milwaukee Brewers on July 29, his 16th homer of the season. He followed that up with a line drive which shook the foul pole in right field the next day to give him a club-leading 17 homers. John also upped his RBI total to 53 by the end of July, good for third on the club.

Among his big games was also a four-hit performance in his hometown Detroit on July 4 to lead the way in a 9-2

Blue Jays win. Three days later he hit a game-winning homer in Chicago to give the Jays a 3-2 margin of victory. His slick glove has also been prominent all month, and has been a major reason for the Blue Jays' remarkable turnaround defensively this year, moving from one of the worst fielding clubs in 1977 to one of the best in 1978.

Runners-up to Mayberry were young players Roy Howell (a two-time winner - April and June) and Rick Bosetti (who won the May award). They each had 44 points, one more than third-place finisher Dave Lemczyk.

Mayberry will receive the July trophy and a cheque for $250 (with a matching amount to a designated charity).

Molson's buy Canadiens

Molson Breweries of Canada recently purchased the Montreal Canadiens for a reported sum of $20 million dollars which includes a long term lease of the Forum.

The Nova Scotia Voyageurs of the American Hockey League are included in the purchase as well as the Canadian's numerous affiliations in the senior and junior hockey ranks.

Ex-Canadian great, Jean Beliveau has been rumored as the new president but that decision has not been finalized to date.

Davies' speed of 159 mph was good for a first place finish in the 135 cc open class. Greg also won the Piston Port Sr., 100 c.c. Heavy Stock and placed second in Open Heavy class. Grant Wilson of Winnipeg topped 154 mph to win the 270 c.c. Open Class. Sixty-two karts with entrants from as far away as Bellevue, Washington, Surrey, B.C., and Winnipeg were on hand for the two-day affair. Saints go marchin' into victory

According to a recent issue of a large Edmonton daily newspaper, Camrose was destined to be the winner of the Commonwealth Midget baseball tournament held Sunday and Monday at Renfrew Park. However, it seems that the sports' scribes on that paper did not reckon with St. Albert Saints.

After the loss of their first game to Camrose, the St.

Albert team came out swinging and went on to triumph over The Edmonton Blue Jays in one game and the Camrose team in two.

Coaches Ben Tooth and Frank Galbraith were more than pleased with the team's efforts. Although just about everyone played like a star, the winning pitchers were Tim Shipanoff, Brian Fee and Dave Mulenthuler.

The team and the coaches would like to thank coach Frank Johnsrude and company of the Edmonton Blue Jays for hosting the Commonwealth Midget baseball tournament at Renfrew Park.

Details of the games will appear in a later issue when Uncle Rick of the "Bat Time Stories" returns from holidays.

Congratulations Saints!

Services held for Simon Ouimet

Mass of Resurrection for Simon Joseph Ouimet was said by Father Maurice LaFrance, O.M.I. in St. Albert Roman Catholic Church on July 28, 1978, at one o'clock. He was assisted at the altar by a grandson and granddaughter of Simon, Bradley Kluthe and Kelly Comeau. Music for the service was provided by Bertha Kennedy at the organ and Gerald Soetaert, who sang a favourite song of Mr. Ouimet, How Great Thou Art.

Serving as Honourary Pallbearers were classmates who attended Glengarry School in the Ray District with Mr. Ouimet: Luke Majeau, Romeo Belanger, Albert Soetaert, George Soetaert, Randal McDonald and Eddy Borle.

Pallbearers were five nephews of the deceased, Laurier, Hubert and Ralph Ouimet, Ed Savoie and Armand Savoie, and Harry Lema, his closest neighbor in Villeneuve district. Interment was in the church cemetery.

A large crowd attended the services and the luncheon which followed in St. Albert Community Hall.

Simon was born in 1908 on the farm his parents, Adlard and Leda Ouimet, had homesteaded when they came from St. Rose, Quebec, in 1892, being one of the earliest families to settle in the Villeneuve district.

In 1939 he was married to Julia Verstraete whose family had come to the area even earlier than the Ouimets. After a month-long wedding trip to the West Coast, Washington, Idaho and the Rocky Mountains, the couple settled on the home place, where they farmed for 34 years before moving to St. Albert in 1973.

Mr. Ouimet loved his home and was not one to go out a great deal, or to travel, although when he was persuaded to take in a community function or a trip to relatives at the coast he enjoyed himself immensely. He loved having visitors to his home and a friendly game of cards.

His years in St. Albert were happy ones and he enjoyed walking around the little district near his home on Lambert Crescent, shopping or dropping in to tease the girls at the bank, and visiting friends in the hospital nearby. From 1953 his wife had kept a journal of crop and weather conditions, family events and so on and Simon encouraged her to write it daily and more fully. He took pleasure in going over these journals and would happily refer to them to settle some small argument with a friend.

Death came in Sturgeon General Hospital on the morning of July 5 following a heart attack, at the age of 70.

Mr. Ouimet is survived by his wife Julie; daughters Simone Kluthe, Mona Comeau and Linda Mason; a son Paul, at home; eight grandchildren; one brother, Fred Ouimet of Coquitlam, B.C. and one sister, Lina Blais of Edmonton. He was predeceased by his brothers Willie and Alex of Villeneuve and a sister, Adele Comeau of Edmonton.

ONCE IN A LIFETIME ENCOUNTER

A number of Redwater residents made the trek to Bruderheim and Fort Saskatchewan which for most people, was a once in a lifetime chance to see Queen Elizabeth and Prince Phillip in person. Our Redwater reporter was on hand in Bruderheim to snap the above photo of the Royal couple as their train carried them off on the final leg of the Royal tour of Northern Alberta, last Wednesday afternoon. Queen Elizabeth is presently cruising the Hebrides for a rest following her hectic visit to Canada.

PUT fuel & IN YOUR TANK profits IN YOUR POCKET

United Farmers of Alberta - owned by the farmers of this province - can save you money in many ways. Take the petroleum division.

First on your mind is, of course, quality. UFA agents provide top quality petroleum products, reflecting the latest technological advances. Rigid tests ensure that these products meet or exceed manufacturers specifications.

And these agents are not high-pressure strangers. They are independent businessmen in your community, with a knowledge of you and your needs, the ability to help you plan intelligently for the future and the capacity to make available to you an information service which will keep you advised of new developments in your industry.

Then there's costs. Despite rigid quality control UFA offers its products at competitive prices.

Further, UFA is a co-operative. That means that, by becoming a member, you not only have a voice in how the association runs its business, but you also share in its profits by way of patronage dividends, based on the amount of business you do with UFA. These dividends are not token. This year alone UFA distributed $2,894,000 in patronage dividends to the farmers of Alberta.

That's why most Alberta farmers belong to UFA. If you're not one of them, contact your local agent.

#524 STURGEON
AIR CADETS

At 1:15 p.m. Sunday, August 6, the #101 squadron from Moncton, N.B. landed at the International Airport. On hand to welcome them were our CO, Captain J. McHardy and Mrs. McHardy, Administration Officer OC Joyce Porsild, Supply Officer Lt. N. Wreggett, Sponsoring Committee Chairman Mrs. E. Hutchings, Secretary-treasurer Mrs. D. Noga and our Provincial League representative Mr. Colby McDonald.

Upon the Moncton squadrons arrival at the Bon Accord Community Centre, they were greeted by the Mayor of Bon Accord, Mr. Ken Fearnley and the Mayor of Gibbons, Mr. Reg Austin. The visiting air cadets are accompanied by their CO, Major F. G. Brown and Mrs. Brown and the chairman of their sponsoring committee Mr. Albert MacLean.

Lt. N. Wreggett assembled our squadron's parents and the visiting squadron in the hall, and soon had all the billeting organized and the Moncton cadets went home with their new "parents-for-a-week." Sunday evening was spent in getting acquainted and for some, a bit of sightseeing.

Our squadron has planned a busy week for our guests. On Monday morning the cadets will visit the Father Lacombe museum in St. Albert and the afternoon will be spent at Fort Edmonton.

Tuesday the Moncton squadron will be going to the Commonwealth Games athletic competitions in the new Commonwealth Stadium in the morning and in the afternoon a trip to downtown Edmonton on the LRT and a tour of the AGT Tower and museum with time afterwards for a little souvenir shopping, etc.

On Wednesday, our visitors will stay in the Redwater area. They will visit the fertilizer plant in the morning, break for lunch and a swim, then tour the Imperial Oil gas plant and oil fields.

Thursday will see them visiting a Hutterite colony where they will view farming on a large scale.

The last day of the visit will be, perhaps, the busiest, with trips to the Game Farm and also Elk Island Park, winding up with a wiener roast at the beach there. They leave for home early Saturday morning.

This exchange trip was arranged under the Department of the Secretary of State, whose program "Open House Canada" has enabled hundreds of Canadian young people to visit other parts of this vast country. Our cadets are looking forward to the return visit of our squadron to Moncton, N.B. which should take place during the last week of August.

Augustin Billo passes away

A long time resident of Morinville, Mr. Augustin Billo, passed away on June 22 at the age of 88, after a brief illness. Mr. Billo, born October 11, 1889, in Rosignol, Belgium, came to Canada in 1891, arriving in this area of the North West Territories, which was to become Morinville, in the spring of 1892. He had resided in Morinville since that time, a total of 86 years.

With his parents, six brothers and four sisters, he travelled on the first train to run from Calgary to Edmonton. After wintering at the St. Albert Mission, the Billo family proceeded to a homestead in Morinville, as part of Father Morin's colonists. Mr. Billo was the last surviving member of that early group of pioneer settlers.

In 1955, when Alberta was celebrating the Golden Jubilee of its entrance into Confederation, Mr. Billo received a scroll from the Alberta Government, commemorating his having been a resident of Alberta during those 50 years. When the present St. Jean Baptiste church was built, Mr. Billo brought the bells from the CNR station to the church site by horse and wagon.

Mr. Billo is survived by his wife Louise (nee Bourque), who was born in Ste. Anne du Ruisseau, Nova Scotia and came to Alberta in 1918, to teach school; two daughters, Cecile Billo, Mrs. Madeleine Chevalier, both of Edmonton and one son, Alphonse of Trenton, Ontario; and 10 grandchildren.

Another daughter, Rolande Davis died in 1963. Mr. and Mrs. Billo celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary in 1970.

The funeral mass, in St. John Baptiste Church Morinville on June 26 was celebrated by Father Georges Primeau, attended by Father Valerien Gaudette, a boyhood friend of Mr. Billo, and Father Lucien Morissette, Mr. Billo's godson. Interment was in the church cemetery.

LEAGUE CURLING

Any people interested in league curling this winter, who have not previously curled out of the Morinville Club, may submit their names now. All vacancies in the curling club league will be filled on a first come, first serve basis. Entries for mixed or men's curling may be phoned into Margaret Yacyshen at 939-3047. All ladies' entries may be submitted to Shelley Parko at 939-4071. This includes not only new curlers to the club but also anyone who participated last year and wishes to enter again.

weeks in Alberta, this happy couple said they could get used to these Canadian ways fast.

The following week they all went to visit and show off the Rockies, by going to Jasper, Miette Hot Springs, the Columbia Icefields, Lake Louise and Banff. While in Calgary, they took in one day at the Calgary Stampede. The chuckwagon races were certainly a lovely sight for this fine English couple.

Eric and Renee took the opportunity to visit with Foch and Eve's children in the city. The children include Bernard and Kathy, Carole and Jack, Anna and Elmer, Denis and Lil and George and Corinne. They treated them to tours, visiting Fort Edmonton, Al Oeming's Game Farm, the Muttart Conservatory and the AGT Building.

When it came time to leave, on July 25, Eric and Renee did so, with fond memories of the royal treatment afforded them by their new found kin of Alberta.

Bon Voyage! We loved you both.

Sturgeon Regional Recreation continues to sponsor a daily playground program for children 6 - 12 years of age. The time and place is Monday to Friday from 10 a.m. - 12 noon and 1 p.m. - 4:30 p.m. on the Frontier Daze grounds. Children do not have to be registered to attend and there is no fee. The program continues weekdays until August 25 with the exception of Wednesday, August 16.

Anyone with news items is asked to contact Margaret Yacyshen at 939-3047, Mail Box 100, Morinville or stop in at 9715 - 99A Avenue.

Sincere sympathies are extended to the family of Peter Patry who passed away August 4 at the age of 79 years. Funeral services were held at St. Jean Baptiste Church on Monday, August 7th.

Morinville Library News

A comic-book exchange will be introduced as a new service at the library. Bring your comics that you have read and exchange them for new ones.

There is a limit of three per person and they must be in good condition.

A pocket book exchange is another innovation. It will be run on the basis of one for one, any limit. Again, they must be in good condition.

For light holiday reading there is now a special shelf of romantic stories, especially nurses and hospital dramas.

A reminder is also extended any kind of book may be obtained from the extension library. This now includes fiction as well as non-fiction.

Mr. and Mr. Eric Worrall visit relatives here

By Liz McLeod

July will be the month best remembered by Eric and his charming wife Renee, who live in Bolton, Lancashire, England.

They came on their first visit to Alberta, to visit, first, with his nephew, Foch Blouin from Edmonton and Calahoo area, and later to his brother Bill Worrall at Rosalind, Alberta.

Foch met his uncle for the first time while serving in the forces during the Second World War, and while he was stationed in England.

To make sure Uncle Eric and Aunt Renee could meet all Foch and Eve's family, the Blouin's planned a family reunion at Pine Sands Beach, where they own a lake lot, and have a lovely cottage.

Pine Sands is in the northern area of Calahoo. After this momentous get acquainted gathering and friendly visiting, Eric, Renee, Foch and Eve travelled to Rosalind, for more meeting and visiting with relatives.

The reunion here was held to give Eric and Renee opportunity to meet brother Bill's children and grandchildren - 86 in all, and this took the form of a barbecue in Grandpa's yard.

After the first couple of

Morinville Agriplex reports

By Walter Enright

"The Farmers' Market which is held every Thursday evening from 5 p.m. - 9 p.m. in the Morinville Agriplex (hockey arena) is rapidly expanding. More stall holders are participating each week, thus increasing the variety of produce available to the consumer.

With increasing consumer interest, the Morinville Farmers' Market will soon become one of the leading markets in the rural Edmonton and St. Albert areas. Take note readers that the events the Morinville Agriplex suggested would be taking place in the near future are now a reality. The Agriplex will be housing its first ever Stampede Wrestling Card at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, August 22, with three champion wrestlers participating. Watch for posters locally with the details on who is who.

The Morinville Agriplex will be the scene of Morinville's first casino to be held on September 22 and 23. Watch for detailed notice in this column.
